

minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GIBBONS. Mr. Speaker, I come to the well of this great body to recognize the achievements of Chance Kretschmer, a freshman running back for the University of Nevada, Reno, Wolf Pack football team.

Chance Kretschmer broke not only every Nevada football rushing record for number of yards, number of carries and number of touchdowns, but he is also the lead rusher in the NCAA.

Born and raised in a small rural town, Tonopah, Nevada, the young football star joined the Wolf Pack football team as an unknown walk-on freshman. Now, not only are the UNR fans and coaches taking notice, but all of the college sports community is doing so as well.

In his last game, Chance ran for an amazing 327 yards on 45 carries and scored an amazing six touchdowns leading the UNR to victory. And as only a freshman, this Nevada native certainly has an exciting future ahead of him. Congratulations, Chance Kretschmer, on your athletic accomplishments. You have made all of Nevada proud.

SUPPORTING WORLD AIDS DAY

(Ms. LEE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. LEE. Mr. Speaker, on December 1, communities across the globe will acknowledge World AIDS Day. The global AIDS pandemic is the greatest humanitarian crisis of our times.

Three years ago in my district, we declared a state of emergency on HIV and AIDS in the African American community. Since then the number of new infections has begun to slowly decrease, but millions of dollars are needed in our urban and rural communities to tackle this pandemic.

AIDS, like many diseases, knows no borders; nor does it discriminate. HIV has infected over 57 million people worldwide. AIDS, TB, and malaria claim over 17,000 lives each day.

We know how to prevent the spread of HIV. We know how to treat AIDS patients, and we know we must continue our work in vaccine development.

United Nations Secretary General Kofi Annan and global AIDS experts estimate that it will take $7 billion to $10 billion annually to launch an effective response. The United States should contribute at least $1 billion to this fund as the wealthiest and most powerful country on Earth. The human family is at stake. We can and we must do more.

A SAD ANNIVERSARY

(Mr. LOBIONDO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1

minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LOBIONDO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today on a sad anniversary for a family in southern New Jersey. On November 25, 1991, 11-year-old Mark Himebaugh left his Middle Township, New Jersey, home to watch firefighters respond to a brushfire. He was returning as his mom was leaving to run an errand. His mother told him that she would be right back, and Mark replied, "Okay, Mom." Those would be the last words anyone would hear from Mark. Now, 10 years later, Mark sadly is still missing.

This heartbreaking story is just one of so many in our Nation where FBI statistics show that more than 876,000 adults and children were reported as missing during the year 2000. The Congressional Caucus on Missing and Exploited Children, of which I am a member, is working to raise the profile of this issue.

The best way to help find kids like Mark is to look at the photographs of missing children posted at many venues around the Nation and call the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children's toll-free number at 1-800-THE-LOST. At their Web site, www.missingkids.org, you can see pictures of Mark. Please do your part to help out.

DR. GEORGE SIMKINS, JR.

(Mr. WATT of North Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WATT of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Dr. George Simkins, Jr., a resident of my congressional district, who died on November 21 and is being funeralized today in Greensboro, North Carolina. Dr. Simkins, a former president of the Greensboro NAACP for 25 years, was a civil rights pioneer who helped integrate the Greensboro City Council and open public facilities to African Americans.

Dr. Simkins was a vigilant and constant warrior for equity, equality, and justice. In this role, he paved the way for many of us to achieve successes that would otherwise have been unattainable and then stood shoulder to shoulder with us to continue the fight. Politically, George was a strong supporter, adviser and mentor. Personally, George was my tennis buddy and my true friend.

Greensboro, North Carolina, and our Nation have lost a sturdy warrior whose important work will be remembered for years to come. I offer my condolences to the family of Dr. George Simkins, Jr.

TRADE PROMOTION AUTHORITY

(Mr. KNOLLENBERG asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, leadership is only proven through action, and throughout its history the United States has proven itself to be a leader. But as we lead the world in an effort to eradicate terrorism, we risk abdicating our position of leadership in an area that is just as vital to America's well-being and that is international trade.

With more than 130 trade agreements in effect in the world today, it is shocking that in the U.S. we are a party to only three. National security and economic security are not mutually exclusive. Exports strengthen our country by creating jobs and strengthening the economy. The jobs stay here and the exports go overseas. One in 10 Americans work in jobs that depend on exports. One in 10. And those jobs pay between 13 and 18 percent more than the national average.

America must lead in international trade in order to effectively lead the world. Fortunately, 1 week from today, December 6, Congress has a chance to pick up the mantle of leadership by passing trade promotion authority.

I urge all my colleagues to join me in supporting TPA, trade promotion authority.

THE ACCESS AND OPENNESS TO SMALL BUSINESS LENDING ACT

(Mr. UDALL of New Mexico asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. UDALL of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, we all agree that small business is the engine of economic growth in our Nation. As a member of the Committee on Small Business, I have worked with my colleagues in both parties to ensure that access to capital is there for those who need it, especially women and minority-owned businesses. I am pleased to join today the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. MCGOVERN) in introducing legislation that will allow us to determine if financial institutions are responding to the credit needs of minority- and women-owned businesses. From this data, we will be able to determine what is working and what needs fixing.

This legislation is supported by the National Women's Business Council, the Women's Business Development Centers, the National Community Reinvestment Coalition, and the Hispanic Economic Development Corporation, to name a few.

I look forward to working with the gentleman from Massachusetts and all my colleagues to achieve passage of this important legislation.

URGING ACTION ON A FARM BILL
